Decrease in aliens at Eastern

by Audrey B. Dumentat

Eastern's foreign student enrollment decreased by 7 percent in 1981-1982, while a national study showed an overall increase of 6 percent in the United States' total foreign student population.

The national study, compiled by the Institute of International Education and released last week, reports that foreign students were 2.6 percent of a total U.S. enrollment in higher education of 12.4 million.

Eastern's foreign student adviser Brigitte Chen cited the "worsening of the economic situation worldwide" as a contributing factor in Eastern's decrease. People make less money and have less money to spend on things like education, Chen said.

"Nationwide studies do not always apply to local institutions because the basic conditions are different," Chen said.

Both nationwide and locally, the majority of foreign students come from the less-developed nations.

More than 80 percent of foreign students come from the less-developed nations, the IIE report stated.

The more developed nations have their own well-developed institutions, so those students have no need to seek education in foreign countries, Chen said.

Eastern's current foreign student population totals 116, with the largest groups of students coming from Malaysia, People's Republic of China (Taiwan), Republic of China and Canada.

Seventy-five percent of Eastern's foreign students cite U.S. institutions as their primary source of funding for education, while nationally only 15

Group formed to study foreign agenda

by Audrey B. Dumentat

While Eastern's foreign student enrollment has decreased 6 percent from 1981, a committee has been set up on campus to study international education programs at Eastern.

The newly formed Task Force on International Education met Wednesday to organize.

Stanley Rives, vice president of academic affairs, formed the task force and three other academic planning committees to study various areas of education.

The task force was set up "to survey what we are doing right now and then say what we ought to be doing five years from now in terms of international education," Rives said.

Some of the issues the committee will deal with include the internationalization of the university's curriculum, international exchange programs for students and faculty, administrative structure of the program, and the possibility of establishing a standing committee on international education.

Wolfgang Schlauch, chairman of the Task Force on International Education, said he also would like the committee to discuss the possibility of enhancing foreign language study to promote student interest.

International education involves exposing "the student to a curriculum that deals with different cultures and different civilizations," Schlauch said.

"I think we (Eastern) are woefully underdeveloped in this area," Schlauch added.

The task force is to submit a report of its recommendations for Eastern's international education program to Rives by May 1, 1983. However, Rives said this deadline can be extended if more time is needed to study the issues.

OCSHA examines problems of off-campus leases

by Keith Clark

The Off-Campus Student Housing Association Thursday examined two model housing leases as part of its research to adopt a uniform lease which it will recommend be used for all off-campus housing.

At its meeting Thursday, OCSHA examined the leases, one which was recommended by the University of Illinois' tenant union.

Steve Davis, OCSHA legal adviser, said the U of I model would work the best at Eastern with "some modifications."

"I feel inclined to work on it so we could produce a well-balanced lease," Davis said.

Davis said landlords currently have one-sided leases and something needs to be done for students.

However, OCSHA landlord representative Hank Beurskins disagreed with Davis and said he thinks the U of I lease is too student-oriented.

"Let's face it—the landlord is the one with the major investment. If a landlord used that lease, he'd be crazy," Beurskins said.

One particular part of the lease Beurskins disagreed with was the section detailing the amount of time a landlord must take making repairs which have been promised to or reported by a tenant.

Beurskins said that section of the lease would be nearly impossible to uphold, citing the time involved in replacing major items, such as refrigerators.

"I have to shop around to find a good used refrigerator, because, like most landlords, I just don't have the money to go out and buy a new one," Beurskins said.

However, Davis said he thinks landlords are not doing enough to fulfill the requirement of repairing or replacing items.

"A lot of landlords are getting by with a pretty shabby method of misrepresenting students," he added.

As the basis for his argument, Davis cited a number of landlord-tenant cases he has handled.

OCSHA Chairman Bob Erio suggested setting up a special committee to study the model lease issue.

In other business, OCSHA member Meg Hart suggested that OCSHA help the Residence Hall Association with the WhistleStop program by setting up a table in the Union to sell whistles.

News Round-Up

Prince Philip visits White House

CHICAGO—Prince Philip traveled to Chicago on Sunday for a two-day stay after a brief visit to the White House for a social call on the President and Mrs. Reagan.

In Washington, the prince arrived at the White House's diplomatic entrance at 10 a.m. and was greeted by the president and Nancy Reagan, who waited at the end of a red carpet. The prince was accompanied by Oliver Wright, the new British ambassador to the United States.

Pope wants new economic order

BARCELONA, Spain—A baggy-eyed Pope John Paul II, speaking near the end of a grueling 10-day Spain tour, called Sunday for urgent action to end the world recession and for a new economic order based on business-labor cooperation.

"The state cannot resign itself to support unemployment forever," the pontiff declared under rainy skies in Barcelona, Spain's second-largest city. "Creation of new jobs must constitute an economic and political priority."

Mine workers vote for new leader

HUNTINGTON, W.Va.—Thousands of United Mine Workers members across the country decide this week whether to keep their current president or cast their vote with a young Pennsylvania lawyer.

Sam Church Jr., a burly, barrel-chested brawler, presently holds the top post in the sprawling 200,000-member union. He is being challenged by Rich Trumka, a 33-year-old member of the union's powerful International Executive Board from District 4, in western Pennsylvania.

Cambodians killed near border

BANGKOK—About 110 Cambodians were killed last week in a Vietnamese artillery attack on a village near the border with Cambodia, the English-language Bangkok Post reported Sunday.

The newspaper said some survivors of the alleged attack reported suffering nausea, skin rashes and other symptoms similar to those of exposure to toxic bio-chemical weapons known as "yellow rain."

Senators-elect find agreement

NEW YORK—Five senators-elect disagreed Sunday on subjects ranging from Social Security to the Soviet threat, but all agreed that a federal jobs program was not the answer to high unemployment.

The dissenter, Frank Lautenberg, however, allowed that while a jobs program might be necessary, he'd rather "invest money with the private sector" to put people to work.

New Senate might fight Reagan

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Most of the faces will be the same, but the Senate convening next year will be feistier and more likely to challenge President Reagan on both economic and defense issues.

The new Senate will have 54 Republicans and 46 Democrats, same as the current lineup.

But the numerical outcome of last week's election masks underlying factors which will partially close the Senate as the safe harbor for Reagan's program of continued cuts in the federal budget and steady increases in Pentagon spending.

Sen. Bill Bradley of New Jersey, vice chairman of the Senate Democratic Campaign Committee, said the election "argues well for a quite different Senate. The moderate Republicans just elected and more moderate Republicans up in 1984 will not go in lockstep" with Reagan's conservative economic policies.

Already, Senate Majority Leader Howard Baker has indicated he will support public jobs legislation and reductions in the American military buildup which Reagan is certain to oppose vigorously.

Baker and Tom Griscom said the senator spoke after the election with Republicans who were re-elected, including conservatives, who said congress must produce jobs legislation to ease the 10.4 percent unemployment rate.

Iran breaks border to invade Iraq

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) —Iranian forces pushed six miles across the border Sunday in their second invasion of Iraq in four months, Iran's Parliament speaker said.

The speaker, Hashemi Rafsanjani, told a news conference the invasion force reached Tib, an Iraqi town of 3,000, and an adjacent town, which he did not name. A producing oilfield also lies in that area of Iraq, 170 miles southeast of Baghdad.

Asked whether the Iranian military might drive toward the Iraqi capital, Rafsanjani replied: "We will not limit ourselves ... we won't finish until they meet our conditions."

The white-turbaned Moslem clergyman reiterated those peace conditions: withdrawal of Iraqi forces from Iranian soil, payment of reparations to Iran, and "punishment" of Iraqi President Saddam Hussein.

Rafsanjani, one of Iran's most powerful leaders, represents revolutionary patriarch Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini on the Supreme Defense Council.

There was no immediate comment from Iraq on Rafsanjani's report. If true, it is Iran's second invasion of Iraq in their 25-month-old border war. In July, the Iranians attacked across the southern end of the frontier and stormed toward Basra, Iraq's second-largest city, but they were driven back in heavy fighting.

Soviets build, test space rocket

MOSCOW, (AP)—The Soviet Union is building the world's most powerful space rocket and plans to test it next year, according to authoritative sources here. The rocket would be used in 1985 to hurl into orbit the 110-ton core of a massive manned space station.

The sources—all of them involved in the Soviet space program—provided a rough outline, and a few details, of a project that draws anything that has been approved for the U.S. National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

It's not all secret. Soviet officials won't officially acknowledge that they are developing the monster rocket, code-name "C." But they speak openly of their concept for Cosmograd-or "city in the sky."

It would be occupied year in, year out, by rotating crews of medical researchers, astronomers, workers making pure drugs and materials, satellite repairmen and military astronauts reconnoitering the globe and manning space weapons.

Some would inhabit this weightless world for perhaps years in long-term research projects. Others would man high-technology construction crews, assembling manned and unmanned rockets destined for the planets and other parts of the solar system.

The sources, who asked to remain unidentified, provided these statistics: It will stand more than 300 feet tall, generate about 11 million pounds of liftoff thrust and will be able to hoist more than 300,000 pounds into orbit.

The largest rocket ever launched successfully was America's Saturn 5, which was retired after propelling American astronauts to the moon. It generated 7.5 million pounds of thrust and could carry more than 200,000 pounds into space.

Union considers credit food purchases

by Carl Pugliese

The Union Board discussed the possibility of creating a charge system for the Union food services at its monthly meeting Thursday.

The idea for a credit card system for Eastern students and faculty originated from board members who attended the Association of College Unions International Conference Oct. 22-25 at Purdue University in Indiana.

Union Board member Meg Hart said the process, which is currently in use at Purdue, is a billing process in which a student may use a credit card when purchasing food. The student's personal account will be debited and credited depending on the transaction he makes.

Hart referred to the process as being similar to a checking account.

Union Area Head Bill Clark said a "Validine" computer system which would be used for food service billing would cost about $30,000.

The board decided to research further the possibilities of implementing the system at Eastern.

In other business, Clark informed the board of the Union's financial status as of Oct. 31.

Clark said the Union is in better financial condition this year than it was at the same time last year.

"We're doing $53,000 better this year than last year," he said.

Intramural All-Nighter is for night folks

by Olu Sobanjo

Sports-oriented students, faculty and staff with nocturnal tendencies will have the opportunity Thursday to participate in the First Annual EIU Intramural All-Nighter.

A variety of events will take place during the seven-hour event and T-shirts, provided by the G. Heileman Brewing Co., will be awarded.

David Dutler, director of intramural sports and coordinator of the event, said the all-nighter is an occasion in which "we try to do unusual things, especially those we don't have on our regular intramural programs."

All-nighter events will include a hot short tournament, canoe stuff, nurf football, cage volleyball, track relays, round-the-world ping pong, horse tournament, two-on-two volleyball, knee soccer and scavenger hunt.

The event was introduced because intramural sports has enough facilities to accommodate the program which other schools have conducted for five or six years, Dutler said. "And besides," he added, "students in my Recreation 4800 class expressed the desire to have all their PRODCE projects together."

PRODCE, an acronym for "Plan Organized Direct Coordinate Evaluation," is a course assignment which requires the students to actively organize a recreational event.

Dutler said he will consider the all-nighter a success "if we can get two teams in each of the team events and between 25 to 50 people taking part in other activities."

"If successful," he added, "I would probably build it into next year's intramural program by replacing some of the current events with some popular ones like indoor soccer, broom hockey or trivia bowl."

Senior Gertie Rupert, one of the students in Dutler's class, said she is hoping the games will be a success. "It depends on how many people show up," she said. "I think it's going to be fun."

Interested students may sign up for the events in the Intramural Office located in Lantz Building.

The First Annual EIU Intramural All-Nighter is scheduled from 11 p.m. to 6 a.m. Thursday in Lantz Gym.

Students get chance to ask questions at forum

Students will have the opportunity Monday evening to listen to and ask questions of the Student Senate candidates running in Wednesday's student government election.

A candidate forum, sponsored by the Student Senate Election Committee, will feature each senate candidate offering his qualifications and motives for running for senate, Student Senate Speaker Terese Lang said.

"This will be a good chance for people to meet the candidates and find out what their platforms are," Lang said.

She added the audience will be able to ask questions of the candidates.

In addition, Lang said a student government representative will explain a referendum which also is on Wednesday's ballot.

The referendum asks students if they want to reduce the administrative assistant for collective bargaining position from a full-time to a part-time position.

The forum is scheduled for 8 p.m. Monday in the Library Lecture Hall.

System error causes phone malfunction

by Ed Mazzocco

Some Eastern students may have experienced telephone problems Sunday afternoon as a result of a computer problem in the telephone system.

During the course of the afternoon, students wanting to make off-campus telephone calls from on-campus locations probably received a busy signal after dialing a telephone number.

Some off-campus students may not have been able to make on-campus, off-campus, area or long-distance calls between the hours of noon and 3 p.m.

Tom Cox, Illinois Consolidated Telephone Co. area service manager, said a memory card went bad in the computer which caused problems with telephone service.

"The card tells the computer what to do, but there was a bad component in the card which threw the computer off," Cox said.

He said the company received reports from about 9:15 a.m. to noon about telephones not functioning properly. The problem was resolved at 3:15 p.m.

An operator from the campus information service said that at 3:10 p.m. reports had come in that telephone calls were going through with no difficulty.

Cox added that what most callers were experiencing was a prolonged dial tone after dialing the number.

Assistant's job should be reduced to part-time

Students will be asked to decide the fate of an executive office when they vote in Wednesday's student senate election.

The senate election ballot will contain a referendum asking students to decide whether the administrative assistant for collective bargaining should be a part-time position.

The position, which is currently set up as a full-time job, has become a catch-all for duties other student government members do not want. Therefore, Eastern students should vote to make the position a part-time one.

According to current senate bylaws, one of the duties of the assistant is to attend all negotiating sessions between Eastern's administration, the Board of Governors and the American Federation of Teachers (Eastern's faculty union).

The assistant voices student concerns and interests on all matters that directly or indirectly affect them.

Currently, the representative also acts as an assistant to the student body president and officially represents the president at formal functions and meetings the president or executive vice president are unable to attend.

Other duties of the position include: chairing executive commissions, serving as coordinator for all special projects undertaken by student government and serving as head of the student tenant union.

All of these duties are important, but none of them require the full-time attention of one student government executive officer.

The duties of co-ordinating special projects and heading the student tenant union could be assigned to existing senate committees.

The duty of representing the president at official functions is supposed to fall on the shoulders of the executive vice president. In addition, the executive vice president usually appoints someone to attend meetings in his place. Therefore, this part of the assistant's job is already void.

The job of acting as the student representative at contract negotiations could easily be assumed part-time by an individual because these negotiations only take place in the summer months.

If the administrative assistant for collective bargaining becomes a part-time position, part of the money that was previously allotted as salary for that executive office will be available to spend in other areas more beneficial to Eastern students.

Therefore, Eastern students need to use their voting power Wednesday to cut waste from the collective bargaining position by making it part-time.

Wednesday's referendum asks, "Are you in favor of reducing the office of the administrative assistant for collective bargaining from a full-time position to a part-time position?"

Students should be sure to vote "yes" on the referendum, making this student government executive position part-time.

Your turn

Get letter facts straight

Editor:

I'm writing this in reference to a recent letter titled "Column not objective" (Nov. 4).

To the president of the Delta Chi fraternity, Thomas J. Bennett: I suggest that it is you who need to get the facts straight before you begin to sling mud, as you so easily put it.

I was a contestant in the 1980 Miss Charleston-Delta Chi Pageant.

The fact is, not only was your statement a misrepresentation of the truth, it was an outright lie. I did not receive the honor of second runner-up nor a scholarship for $100.

What I did receive was an explanation for my fourth place (unrecognized) finish from the pageant spokeswoman:

"Dramatic presentations never win. They are not considered to be a talent." Why, then, do Miss Illinois contestants sometimes compete and win with their dramatic presentations?

The fact is, opportunity alone does not guarantee an equal chance to win.

To all of you who are concerned over the issue: the Miss Black EIU pageant is designed to give young black women the opportunity to compete with not only hopes of winning, but a chance to win.

I hope in the future, Mr. Thomas J. Bennett, president of Delta Chi fraternity, that you will get all of your facts straight before you sling mud. Mud slinging is a very dirty business, especially when it is done sloppily.

Deneen C. Bradford

Senate not exclusive

Editor:

Experience tells me that I should not write a letter in a fit of anger, but after reading your editorial and the corresponding cartoon about minority involvement in student government in your Nov. 4 issue, I have reached the end of my patience.

First of all, the campus relations committee has been working on this problem. Several methods have been discussed on how to communicate with the various minority groups.

It was decided to send a letter to your newspaper wholeheartedly inviting minorities to get involved in student government. The letter was sent a day before your editorial was published and as of the time my letter was written (Nov. 4), I have not seen it printed.

Secondly, minorities are not excluded from student government as you would lead people to believe. As a member of the legislative leadership committee, I participated in interviewing candidates for various student-faculty boards.

I can recall several minorities being interviewed and approved because of their excellent qualifications. Minority involvement is low, but student government is aware of this and has been working to offer student government to all.

Last, and certainly not least, I would like to congratulate the News for once again not getting all the facts about a particular situation.

Student Senate puts a lot of work into its programs for the campus. It is frustrating to read only about what Student Senate does wrong.

No one ever claimed that the senate was perfect. How would you like an editorial written every time The Daily Eastern News did not quite live up to expectations? But I guess there are not enough days in the week for that.

Jim Schobert
Co-chairman, Academic Affairs Committee

(Editor's note: Editorial page content is decided two days before publication. The campus relations committee's letter was received after deadline for the Nov. 4 editorial page. Therefore, it could not be published before our editorial, "Senate must strive for integration.")

Letter policy

The name and phone number of at least one author must be submitted with each letter to the editor. Letters submitted without a name (or with a pseudonym) or without a phone number or other means of verifying authorships will not be published.

Names will be withheld on request. Letters should be typewritten and should not exceed 250 words. Letters which exceed the 250-word limit will be edited to fit with the writer's permission.

Pastorini tickets on sale at Union

Advance tickets are now available at the Union Box Office for a lecture this week by NFL veteran Dan Pastorini, sponsored by the University Board's lectures committee.

Ticket prices are $1.50 for Eastern students and $3 for the general public, Ed DeYoung, public relations director for the UB lectures committee, said.

Pastorini is expected to discuss drug and alcohol abuse in the NFL along with his personal views of the current football players' strike, DeYoung said.

Audience members will be able to speak with Pastorini during a question and answer period that will follow the lecture, DeYoung added.

After graduating with honors in 1971, he was drafted by the Houston Oilers as the number three NFL draft pick. Pastorini has played both the positions of quarterback and punter, averaging 41 yards per kick.

The lecture is scheduled for 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Union Grand Ballroom.

Pianist to entertain in concert Monday

by Dana Eastridge

Pianist Robert Weirich will perform in concert at 8 p.m. Monday in Dvorak Concert Hall in the Doudna Fine Arts Center.

Weirich is scheduled to perform Copland's Piano Variations, George Crumb's Makrokosmos, Volume II, and Antheil's Sonata No. 4, Dorothy Travis of the music department said.

"I've heard him in concert and he's an exciting performer," Travis said.

The recital is being sponsored by the music department, she added.

Ticket prices are $2.50 for general admission and $1.50 for students and senior citizens. They may be purchased at the door one hour before the performance.

In addition to the recital, Weirich will conduct a concert and master class from 9 to 11 a.m. Nov. 9, also in Dvorak Concert Hall, Travis said. The class is open to anyone interested in music.

Weirich has won several piano competition awards, including the Kennedy Center/Rockefeller Foundation International Competition. He also has performed at the White House twice, Travis said.

Weirich currently is a faculty member at Northwestern University's School of Music.

percent of foreign students are financially supported by U.S. sources.

"Most of them (foreign students at Eastern) come from less-developed nations. The source of income in those nations is relatively low," Chen said. With the high cost of education, even Illinois residents have trouble with expenses, Chen added.

The national study shows foreign students tend to cluster in largest numbers at relatively few institutions.

The IIE report found that 326,299 international students were enrolled on 2,454 American campuses last year.

"Foreign students tend to apply to institutions that they have heard of in their own countries and they tend to go to places where there is already a sizeable number of students from their own country," Chen said. "No one wants to be the only one."

"Some (foreign students) are looking for a university which is located in a climate they are used to and some institutions put a lot more money and emphasis into these (foreign student) programs," Chen added.

Student Senate: Election '82

How, where to vote on Wednesday

The polls will be open from 7:30 a.m. to 7 p.m. Wednesday for this fall's student government elections.

Students who live in Carman, Thomas, Taylor, Lawson, Andrews and East halls should vote on the southeast second landing of Coleman Hall.

Students who live off-campus and in Pemberton, Lincoln, Stevenson, Douglas, Weller, McKinney and Ford halls should vote in the east end of the Union Ballroom.

Students need to bring a validated student ID with them in order to vote.

If students want to vote absentee, they may pick up ballots between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Tuesday in the Student Activities Office on the second floor of the Union addition.

There are 12 students running for five Student Senate seats in the at-large district, nine students running for five seats in the off-campus district and eight students running for five seats in the residence hall district.

Also on the ballot will be a referendum asking students if the administrative assistant for collective bargaining position should be reduced from a full-time to a part-time position.

Students to decide on position

Eastern students Wednesday will face a referendum on whether to keep an executive student government office as a full-time, paid position.

The Student Senate voted earlier this semester to place a referendum on the student government ballot which concerns the administrative assistant for collective bargaining position.

The referendum asks voters if they favor reducing the administrative assistant's position from a full-time, paid executive position to a part-time position.

The administrative assistant attends negotiations between the Board of Governors and the faculty union, the University Professionals of Illinois. The assistant also voices student concerns and interests at the bargaining table.

If the referendum passes, student government will take action to redefine the position. Bob Erio, who currently holds the position, will not see changes in the position while he is in office.

Any changes in the position resulting from the referendum will go into effect next year.

At-large district

Jim Caldwell

Junior Jim Caldwell, an English major from Franklin, is seeking reelection to the Student Senate in the at-large district.

Caldwell has served on the senate for one year and on the senate Academic Affairs Committee for three semesters.

Caldwell said he is running for Student Senate because he can represent the students responsibly. If re-elected, Caldwell said he will continue working on establishing an escort service at Eastern.

Also, he said he favors reducing the administrative assistant for collective bargaining position to a part-time summer office. He said reducing the position to part-time would save students' activity fee money while maintaining the position.

Sheila McWeeny

Sheila McWeeny, a sophomore marketing major from Glenview, is running as an at-large district candidate.

McWeeny has served on the Student Senate Campus Relations Committee and also has helped at the student government Organization Day.

She said she is running for Student Senate because she can "effectively display policies and activities that affect Eastern students."

In addition, McWeeny said she favors reducing the administrative assistant for collective bargaining position to a part-time summer position.

Audrey Berman

Junior Audrey Berman, a political science major from Arlington Heights, is running for Student Senate as an at-large district candidate.

Berman said she is running for Student Senate to represent the student body and improve the university. If elected, Berman said she would like to work on establishing an escort service for students.

Also, Berman said she favors abolishing the administrative assistant for collective bargaining position.

"Removing the position would save Eastern over $1,000," she said.

Steve Smiley

Junior Steve Smiley, an industrial technology major from Urbana, is running for Student Senate in the at-large district.

He said he is running for Student Senate to benefit the student body and student government.

If elected, Smiley said he would like to get students more involved in student government.

In addition, Smiley said he does not favor retaining the administrative assistant for collective bargaining position.

Phil Lewandowski

Sophomore Phillip A. Lewandowski, a geology major from Palatine, is seeking election to the Student Senate as an at-large district candidate.

Lewandowski has served on the senate Student Awareness Committee. Also, he has worked with the Off-Campus Student Housing Association and Project Recycle.

He said he is running for senate to promote student opinion.

If elected, he said he would like to implement a shuttle bus service for the students who live at Holiday Hall.

Also, Lewandowski said he favors retention of the administrative assistant for collective bargaining position.

Ed Blakemore

Ed Blakemore, a political science major from Crestwood, is running as an at-large candidate.

Blakemore said he is running for Student Senate because he thinks he has the ability to effectively represent the student population.

If elected, Blakemore said he would consult the students more on issues in an attempt to receive more student input on issues.

Also, Blakemore said he favors reducing the administrative assistant for collective bargaining position to part-time.

Kelly Kennedy

Sophomore Kelly Kennedy, a marketing major from Chicago, is running as an at-large district candidate.

Kennedy has served on the Student Senate Academic Affairs Committee.

If elected, Kennedy said she will continue to work on the Academic Affairs Committee and will promote further involvement of Eastern students in student government.

In addition, Kennedy said she favors reducing the administrative assistant for collective bargaining position to part-time.

Kristi Guerra

Freshman Kristi Guerra, a marketing and psychology major from Elmhurst, is running as an at-large district candidate.

Currently, Guerra is a member of the Student Senate Academic Affairs Committee. Also, Guerra has served as an Illinois state officer for the National Office Education Association.

If elected, Guerra said she would be an active voice of the entire student body on issues concerning academic affairs and housing.

Guerra said she favors reducing the administrative assistant for collective bargaining position to part-time.

Diane Clayberg

Senior Diane Clayberg, an elementary education and speech communications major from Sycamore, is running for Student Senate as an at-large district candidate.

Clayberg has served on various Student Senate committees and as a summer student senator. In addition, Clayberg has served on the Residence Hall Association.

She said she is running for senate because she has the experience and could get more accomplished for Eastern students if she had a "voting voice."

Clayberg said she favors reducing the administrative assistant for collective bargaining position to part-time.

Gary Welsh

Gary Welsh, a sophomore political science major from Marshall, is seeking election to the Student Senate as an at-large candidate.

Welsh has served as a student senator for one semester and also on the senate Auditing Committee. In addition, Welsh is a student representative to the Student Advisory Committee to the Illinois Board of Higher Education.

He said he is running for senate because Eastern students deserve a representative that they can "count on."

Welsh said he favors eliminating the position of administrative assistant for collective bargaining.

Susan Elia

Susan Elia, a junior economics and political science major from Oak Park, is running as an at-large district candidate.

Elia said she is running for senate to "change and improve the university."

If elected, Elia said she would like to work on improving campus security and reducing overcrowded classes.

She said she also favors reducing the collective bargaining position to part-time because its duties are not required throughout the entire year.

Ana Cecilia Velasco

Ana Cecilia Velasco, a junior political science major from Springfield, is running as an at-large candidate.

Currently, Velasco is a member of the Student Publications Board. She also served as president of the Student Senate at her junior college.

If elected, Velasco said she has no particular plans but would represent the student body to the best of her ability.

She added she favors reducing the administrative assistant for collective bargaining position to part-time.

Residence hall district

Dan Brosseau

Dan Brosseau, a freshman accounting major, is running for Student Senate in the residence hall district.

He said is running for senate because he believes student fees are getting too expensive and he also thinks freshmen should have representation on the senate.

Brosseau said he favors Eastern re-joining the Illinois Student Association and thinks the administrative assistant's position should be reduced to "about one-third to one-half of what it is now."

He said he is qualified to be a senator because he was involved in the Illinois Governmental Internship Program in high school and also was treasurer of his high school class.

Phil Montgomery

Junior Phil Montgomery, a political science and history major, is running in the residence hall district for senate.

He said he is running because he believes his previous experience in the senate will help him continue to be "a strong voice for the students."

He said he is qualified to be a senator because he has served on the senate for a year and also has served on the senate Housing and Elections committees.

Montgomery said he plans to continue working on housing programs that have been implemented this semester and favors making the administrative assistant's job a summer position.

Janet Hahn

Janet Hahn, a sophomore marketing major, is running as a candidate in the residence hall district.

Hahn said her main objective if elected would be to keep students better informed of the activities of student government and not promote her own personal interests.

She said she favors reducing the number of hours for the administrative assistant for collective bargaining position.

Hahn said she is qualified for the senate because she was an executive officer in her high school student government and also believes she is informed on the issues and activities of the senate.

Stephanie Petrich

Stephanie Petrich, a freshman economics major, is a candidate for senate running in the residence hall district.

Petrich said she is running for senate because she believes she can play an active part in the university.

She said she cannot make any campaign promises, but will work hard to make student government stronger. She also said she favors reducing the pay for the administrative assistant's position.

Petrich said she is qualified for student government because she currently is a South Quad judicial board member and a member of Lawson Hall Council.

Brenda Osterman

Brenda Osterman, a junior majoring in computational mathematics, is seeking re-election as a senator from the residence hall district.

She said she plans to renew Eastern's membership in the Illinois Student Association and has plans to work against student apathy and get more students involved in student government.

In addition, Osterman said she favors reducing the administrative assistant's position to part-time.

She said she believes she is qualified to run for senate because of her previous student government experience, which includes one semester as a senator and service on the senate Academic Affairs Committee.

Angelynn Richardson

Angelynn Richardson, a freshman computer management major, is a candidate for senate in the residence hall district.

She said she is qualified for senate because she served as speaker on her high school's student council and also has served on the senate Student Awareness Committee.

If elected, she plans to continue working with the Student Awareness Committee and also wants to get involved with the senate Housing Committee.

Richardson said she thinks the administrative assistant's position should be reduced to part-time.

Mark Schiavi

Mark Schiavi, a sophomore sociology major, is seeking his first term to the Student Senate in the residence hall district.

If elected, Schiavi said he plans on working to make the residence halls a better place to live, and added he would like to work to keep tuition and housing costs at a minimum.

He also said he favors Eastern re-joining the Illinois Student Association and making the administrative assistant for collective bargaining position part-time.

Schiavi said he thinks he is qualified to run for senate because he has had four years of student government experience in high school and is a non-senate member of the Student Senate Housing Committee.

Randy Kessler

Randy Kessler, a freshman political science major, is running in the senate's residence hall district.

Kessler said he is running for senate because he believes he can represent on-campus residents. If elected, he said he will support and propose policies that will benefit a majority of college students.

He said he supports making the administrative assistant's position part-time.

In addition, Kessler said he believes he is qualified for office because he served on his high school's student council for two years.

Off-campus district

Jay Zanton

Junior Jay Zanton, a political science and German major from Geneseo, is running for Student Senate as an off-campus candidate.

Zanton has served on the senate for one semester and on the Student Senate Academic Affairs Committee.

He said he is running for re-election to the senate because he would like "to promote student participation in student government and improve the image of student government."

Also, Zanton said he supports reducing the administrative assistant for collective bargaining position to a part-time summer position.

Dan Diewald

Dan Diewald, a senior computer management and production management major from Flossmoor, is seeking re-election to Student Senate as an off-campus candidate.

If re-elected, Diewald said he would like to improve student government communications. Also, he said he would like to implement a two-hour parking service at Eastern's Health Service.

Diewald said he favors reducing the administrative assistant for collective bargaining position to a part-time rather than a full-time executive office.

Eddie Mullally

Eddie Mullally, a sophomore from Charleston, is running as an off-campus candidate.

Mullally said he is running because he would like to get involved with different issues concerning students and if elected, he plans to bring new ideas to help students at Eastern.

He said he favors reducing the administrative assistant's position to part-time and believes he is qualified to run because of his past student government experience in high school.

Randy Saucier

Randy Saucier, a freshman political science major from Litchfield, is running for Student Senate as an off-campus candidate.

Saucier said his prior experience in student government includes being president of his high school sophomore class.

He said he is running for senate because he has always been interested in government and believes with his experience in high school government he is qualified for the job.

Saucier said if elected, he would like to serve on the senate Auditing Committee.

He said his position on the administrative assistant for collective bargaining job is that it should be abolished and the duties distributed to other senate members.

Dianne Darran

Senior Dianne Darran, a family services major from Springfield, is seeking re-election to the Student Senate as an at-large candidate.

Darran has served as a senator for one year and currently is chairman of the Student Senate Public Relations Committee.

She said she is running for senate because she wants to continue serving Eastern students.

If re-elected, Darran said she will continue representing the student body to the best of her ability and will continue to inform students of issues which affect them.

Also, Darran said she favors reducing the administrative assistant for collective bargaining position to a part-time summer job.

Larry Weidner

Junior Larry Weidner, a computer management major from Olney, is running as an off-campus candidate.

Weidner said he has two years of experience as a student senator at Olney Central College in Olney.

If elected, Weidner said he hopes to further the interests of average students and to represent off-campus students accurately.

He said the administrative assistant for collective bargaining position should be made a part-time position.

Rich Heffley

Speech communication major Rich Heffley, a junior from Springfield, is running for Student Senate as an off-campus candidate because "I believe I can both benefit myself and the students of Eastern."

Although, he has no prior experience in student government, Heffley said he has been active in his fraternity and believes this will aid him as a senator.

Heffley said he plans "to become very involved in the running of the senate."

Heffley said he believes the administrative assistant for collective bargaining position should be eliminated.

Drew Snyder

Drew Snyder, a senior speech communications major, is an off-campus candidate for Student Senate.

Snyder said he is running because he has enjoyed the year and a half he has spent on senate and would like to continue. If elected, he said he would encourage more student participation and interest in student government.

Snyder said he favors reducing the administrative assistant's position to part-time.

He said he is qualified to be on the senate because of his past experience as a senator.

Terese Lang

Terese Lang, a senior political science major, is an off-campus candidate for Student Senate.

If re-elected, Lang said she would like to continue her leadership capacity as speaker of the senate and also would like to continue serving the needs of students and get more students involved in student government.

She said she is in favor of reducing the administrative assistant's position to part-time and believes she is qualified to run for senate because of her four semesters of student government experience and the fact that she has served on several committees.

Play-off hungry Panthers trounce Bears 36-7

by John Humenik

Daily Eastern News correspondent

SPRINGFIELD, MO.—Eastern quarterback Jeff Christensen said he was just having fun, but the senior standout's record performance Saturday wasn't a bit amusing to Southwest Missouri State.

Christensen, who completed 20 out of 33 passes for an Eastern record of 409 yards, helped the Panthers overcome their first quarter turnovers en route to posting a 36-7 Mid-Continent Conference trouncing of the Southwest Missouri Bears at Briggs Stadium.

"It was all fun today and it makes it great when everyone is having fun just playing," Christensen said.

The victory enabled Eastern, ranked sixth in NCAA Division IAA, to capture its third straight MCC championship in sharing a 2-0-1 league record with Northern Iowa. In addition, the Panthers remained unbeaten and lifted their season mark to 9-0-1.

"When we put our minds to something we can do it, and today it was just one of those things," Christensen added. "I knew we were going to win but it was just a matter of when we would get started."

Despite Eastern's three first-quarter turnovers inside its 40 yard line, Christensen rallied the Panthers to an impressive 559 yards in total offense against Southwest Missouri's defense, which ranked eighth in the NCAA I-

AA by allowing its opponents an average 222.2 yards per game.

Christensen chalked up his 409 yards passing against a Southwest secondary which ranked second nationally in pass defense with an average of 99.1 yards per game. However, Christensen did finish the game with two interceptions.

"If they (Southwest) take away our running game we'll win with the pass and that's what we did today," Eastern running back Kevin Staple, who helped Eastern gain 150 total yards rushing on the afternoon, said.

"When we play teams that we're better than we tend to start the game more relaxed than we should," he continued. "Today we just played down to their level and that is the reason for the slow start."

Staple rushed for 74 yards on 15 carries and one touchdown, but committed three of Eastern's five fumbles—two in the first quarter. However, the Panther defense stepped in and held the Bears to 40 yards offensively at the half.

"This was the best defense that we have played all season and today the important thing was keeping them (the Bears) out of the end zone," Eastern defensive secondary coach Rick Schachner said.

"I don't think these kids even realize that they won the game today in the first quarter," he added. "They (the Bears) could have beat us if our defense had let down, but it didn't."

Eastern fumbled the opening kickoff and when Southwest Missouri netted one yard on the following three plays the Bears were forced to try for a field goal. Place kicker Greg Finley, however, missed wide on the 49-yard attempt.

On the next series, Christensen fumbled at the 30 yard line, but it took one of Eastern's six quarterback sacks to end the drive and establish the new single season sack record at 58.

"It (the Southwest offense) was confusing and we had to wait to see what happened," Eastern linebacker Ortega Jackson said. "Nobody let down because we knew they could move the ball."

Linebacker Bill Mines, who registered 14 tackles Saturday, added,

Eastern's Jeff Christensen is tackled by two Southern Illinois-Carbondale players during the 20-7 win Oct. 30 at O'Brien Field. Christensen threw for 409 yards and an Eastern record as he led the Panthers to a 36-7 win over Southwest Missouri Saturday. (News photo by Al Sturm)

"Their offense wasn't tough, it was just confusing to us. They didn't score much, but they did give us problems all afternoon with misdirections."

Staple fumbled to end Eastern's fourth drive of the first quarter, but it was the next series which would rebound the slow-starting Panthers.

"Today I felt we needed to be threatened first," Christensen said. "And for the first time since I've been at Eastern we came right back and answered a team that tried to score on (See PANTHERS, page 15)

Women run to fifth place GCAC finish

by Kirby Flowers

Eastern's women's cross country squad notched a disappointing fifth place showing at the 10-team Gateway Collegiate Athletic Conference championships at Normal Saturday.

Host Illinois State University captured the Conference title with 42 points. Wichita State and Southwest Missouri State rounded out the top three squads with 90 and 93 points respectively.

"Illinois State is pretty tough," Panther coach John Craft said. "But I thought we could run with the rest of the teams."

Craft said he was a little let down by the fifth-place finish but thinks his unit did a fine job considering the conditions.

"Fifth place is not bad," Craft said. "But I think we are capable of doing better. I thought we would place around second or third."

"The times were slowed down because it was so cold and windy," Craft added. "They had to run into a stiff wind for the last half mile of the course."

Consequently, Craft said, the times did not tell the true story for his runners.

"With a 25 mile an hour wind blowing in your face it is difficult to have a good time," Craft said. "I don't think the times are indicative of how the girls ran."

Individually, Drake's Liz Hjalmarson finished in 16:50 for first place.

For the first time this year Eastern's Gina Sperry failed to come in first for the Panthers. Eastern's Margret Smith was the first Panther finisher as she notched ninth place with a mark of 18:18, while Sperry placed 11th with a time of 18:23.

Craft said he was pleased with

Smith's performance and although he was a bit surprised, he was not unhappy with Sperry's effort.

"Margret (Smith) gave a real good effort," Craft said. "And although Sperry didn't run in our number-one spot I think she ran a fair race."

"I don't think anyone should get down on Sperry since this is the first race all season she has not finished first for us," Craft added. "Sperry just lost a little momentum going into the wind and Smith ran a fine race. No excuses are necessary."

Eastern's Nancy Kramer placed 30th, while Anne Ogle notched the 33rd position and Megan Irons finished 49th to round out the Panthers' top five runners.

"Kramer ran her best race of the season," Craft noted. "However, I don't think Anne (Ogle) ran as well as I think she can."

Kagel halts NFL talks

NEW YORK (AP)—With the collapse again of the strike negotiations and the existence of the National Football League's 1982 season in serious doubt, the focus shifts Monday from the bargaining table to the courtroom.

Mediator Sam Kagel returned home to San Francisco Sunday after recessing the talks Saturday night, the second time in two weeks he had called a halt to the proceedings. Each time, economic issues locked the two sides far apart.

With Sunday's games called off and Monday night's San Diego at Miami game also off, seven weeks of the season have been wiped out by the 48-day-old strike. Jack Donlan, the owners' chief negotiator, said he could see the rest of the season slipping away weekly. So could some of the player representatives still at the midtown Manhattan hotel where talks were conducted for eight days before breaking off.

Previously, it had been the union's stance that, regardless of the state of the season at this point, all 16 games would be played and all the players would be paid. Now, there appears to be slippage.

"Their actions in effect cancelled the season," said Mark Murphy, the Washington Redskins' player rep and a member of the union's executive committee. Elvin Bethea, the Houston Oilers' players rep, said, "They are sacrificing the season and seeing it go up in smoke."

Field hockey finishes fifth

Scoreboard

by Julie Deetz
CARBONDALE—Eastern's field hockey team came back from an opening 1-0 loss to Western Illinois to dump Northern Iowa 6-1, placing fifth in the Gateway Collegiate Athletic Conference Championship.

Saturday's competition marked the close of Eastern's 1982 field hockey season with a 9-11 record.

Southwest Missouri State captured first place in the GCAC title match by defeating Indiana State 1-0.

In the initial contest, the Panthers dropped a tough match to Western on a penalty stroke.

Panther Ann Bohannon explained how the penalty stroke was awarded to Western.

"The ball bounced off of Kathy Sherer's leg and not off her stick. However, it was already past our goalie so Western got a penalty stroke," Bohannon said.

Eastern's Barb Stelk added the loss to Western was disappointing when compared to the quality of play the Panthers exhibited in the match.

"Our game against Western was pretty evenly matched and our passes looked good but somehow the games against Western are always determined by one goal," Stelk said.

The Panthers notched an easy 6-1 victory over Northern Iowa with Stelk, Gail Niebur, and Deb Seybert each marking two goals apiece.

Stelk said the Panthers played as a team against Northern Iowa and she added there was never a doubt throughout the game the Panthers would not win.

"We outshot them (Northern Iowa) and dominated the entire game," Stelk said.

Eastern's Bohannon also said she believes teamwork was the key to the Panthers win over Northern Iowa.

"The referees even complimented us after the game against Northern Iowa," Bohannon said. "They said that we scored pretty goals—we didn't try to go through the goalie, we always tried to go around."

"It's too bad that we couldn't have played as well as we did Saturday against Northern Iowa in the Western game—we would have won then," Bohannon added.

In addition, Seybert was selected as one of 15 representatives to the GCAC all-conference tournament team selected by the coaches of the six teams competing in the championships.

Panther veterans Stelk, Bohannon, Niebur, Seybert, Mary Ohl and Judy Waterbury were also nominated for positions on the All Conference team.

RICK, I'LL BE COMING UP ON SEVEN MONTHS SOON. I THINK IT'S TIME WE PICKED A CHILD BIRTH METHOD. ANY IDEAS?
METHOD? WHAT DO YOU MEAN, METHOD?
WELL, THERE ARE LOTS OF DIFFERENT TECHNIQUES. THERE'S NATURAL CHILD BIRTH, PREPARED CHILD BIRTH, AND, OF COURSE, LAMAZE...
THERE'S ALSO THE LEBROYER METHOD, WHICH IS BIRTH WITHOUT VIOLENCE, MIDWIFE-ASSISTED, HUSBAND-COACHED, AND HOME DELIVERY, WHICH IS THE HOLISTIC APPROACH.

Free agents set to deal

NEW YORK (AP)—There will be no multimillion-dollar superstars available when baseball's free agent class of 1982 goes up for bid Wednesday, but there are some plums available for teams willing to invest some money.

The biggest names in the bunch are Seattle pitcher Floyd Bannister, designated hitters Hal McRae of Kansas City and Don Baylor of California, and first basemen Steve Garvey of Los Angeles. Garvey negotiated with the Dodgers up to the Saturday midnight deadline before declaring free agency, but was unable to come to terms.

Last year, New York Yankees' pitcher Ron Guidry was the most desired player. He was drafted by 18 of the 26 major league teams, but wound up resigning with the Yankees.

Bannister, like Guidry a left-hander, is expected to be the most sought-after player this year.

He had a respectable 12-13 record with a weak team in a small ballpark and led the American league in strikeouts.

His age alone—he is 27—makes him a better investment than Garvey, who will be 34 next month and is coming off his least productive season in a decade—a .282 average with 16 home runs and 86 runs batted in.

Baylor, one of the stars of the American League playoffs, is 33, and McRae, whose 133 RBI led the American League, is 36. Moreover, as designated hitters, they have little to offer National League teams.

But Bannister may have to go somewhere other than the West Coast, his area preference, to get the million dollars or so a year he is seeking.

us."

Christensen rallied Eastern when he connected with Jerry Wright on a 75-yard post-pattern touchdown pass. And with 1:09 remaining in the first quarter, Dave Strauch added the extra point to give Eastern a 7-0 lead.

"I didn't feel that Southwest had good rushers upfront," Eastern offensive lineman Bob Norris said. "I think Jeff (Christensen) played really well and we backed him up today."

Bears quarterback Greg Arterburn, who completed 3 of 13 passes for 40 yards, failed to get his team moving as Eastern's defense dominated the second quarter.

"It (the fumbles) really pepped us up, but when we couldn't score that put us back twice as far," Southwest running back John Longstreet said. "We missed a few really good scoring opportunities early and Eastern just capitalized on our mistakes today."

Eastern upped its margin to 16-0 by halftime, following a 12-yard Christensen touchdown pass to Roger Holoman and a 26-yard field goal by Strauch.

But Southwest Missouri came back and Longstreet scored from five yards out with 3:12 remaining in the third quarter to give the host its only score. The Bears moved the ball 63 yards in 11 plays during that drive.

The Panthers continued to pick apart the Bears' defensive secondary and wound up with a 20-point fourth quarter.

Touchdown runs by Staple and Dar-ryon White from six and five yards out respectively gave Eastern a 30-7 lead and a one-yard run by Tyrone Davis concluded the Panthers' scoring.
